Gun Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Gun Club was held on Monday evening to discuss the prospects of the coming season.

Mr. Turvey, representative of the Dominion Ammunition Co., who presented last year's trophy, gave an interesting talk on trap shooting and gun club organization. He spoke for almost two hours and had a fund of information for those interested in shooting.

The secretary reported that the club was in excellent condition and it was decided to make improvements at the grounds to bring them up to the standard to comply with trap shooting regulations.

It is expected that the work will be completed before the first shoot which will be held on the first Monday in May.

An effort will be made to increase the membership and anyone interested should see Mr. E. Watkins, secretary.

Golfers Will Organize for Season.

A meeting of golf enthusiasts is being called to be held in the C. P. R. waiting room at 8 p. m. on Monday, April 27. A delegation from Olds is being invited to attend and the officers ask that all members and those interested will attend.

Knox United Church Notes.

The topic for next Sunday is "Development." We invite most cordially any who desire to attend Divine Worship.

Will the friends of the Westcott and the Westerdale Churches please note that the Knox United Choir will render their Easter Cantata, "King Triumphant" next Sunday at the usual time for services, weather and roads permitting. We urge a full attendance and all friends are heartily welcome.

The "cent-a-meal" boxes will be opened during the next few days, in order that we send our quota for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund for 1936.

"Breach of Promise" ---Its a Comedy!

The Didsbury Teacher's Staff, assisted by other artists, will present a 3 act comedy, "Breach of Promise" at the Opera House on Tuesday evening next, April 28, at 8:30 o'clock.

May we take the liberty of presenting several unique characters for your inspection? These are nothing but disjointed thumb-nail sketches. However, until you have the opportunity of meeting this motley crew in the flesh, our rambling must suffice.

"What fools we mortals be." Did you ever write a rather indecent letter, and wish you hadn't? Well, here's poor Beau Spencer, so did he, and some mess he landed himself in. He was such a nice respectable young man too. What a monkey this gold-digging Miss Elaine St. Claire tried to make of him! Ah, well, youth....

Then there's Botts, Spencer's man who joined the "Correspondence Club for Lonesome Souls." Ah! You should see the result for yourself, she's a "gook."

The loud talking Lawyer Kendall has a brief-case full of grief for Beau. He is certainly one viper of a shyster.

Ah, the beautiful Ruth Dennis (stand back, boys, don't crowd), who isn't what she appears to be; a mysterious figure who moans, "Didn't you told me dot you loafed me?" thereby giving young Beau something approaching apoplexy.

Next we present "Mamma," who is Elaine's limping, wailing, hungry parent (sometimes), if you know what we mean.

Oh, we almost forgot "Boo-Boo." At present he is languishing in "durance vile" behind steel bars in Didsbury, but he'll be on the loose. Beware! Take care!

Here is what one who saw "Breach of Promise" in Carstairs has to say about it:

"You will make no mistake in coming to see this play, for from the instant the distracted butler tries to answer the simultaneous ringing of the doorbell and telephone, until the final curtain, when those most concerned 'live happy ever after,' there is not a dull moment. For those who might think Mr. Ford never gets excited—just see the play and find out."

At the Movies.

Next Friday and Saturday the attraction at the movies is "It Had to Happen" with George Raft and Rosalind Russell. It is a story of New York and how the hero made good. He slept in a bath tub on his first night in New York, but in five years they crowned "King of Little Italy" and married him off to a $60,000,000 heiress. There is a lot of both drama and comedy in the picture.

Sharp's Anniversary Week at the Opera House came to a close on Saturday. Mr. Sharp reported that there were good houses at each of the shows. The draw for the G.E. radio was made during the show on Saturday evening and the holder of the lucky ticket was Mrs. C. D. Casey, who resides 1½ miles west of town.

Petition to Improve Highway Corner

A petition circulated by Mr. M. Weber and signed by a large number of business men and farmers was presented to the town council on Monday evening, asking that the corner at the south end of Railway Street be improved to make it less dangerous to motor traffic.

The council decided that as the corner is part of the Calgary and Edmonton highway to take the matter up with the Department of Public Works and endeavor to obtain their co-operation in making the necessary alteration.

It is proposed to take part of the auto camp to make a better curve in the road.

Change in Train Time.

There will be a change in train time which will take effect Sunday.

The morning train going north will leave Calgary at 8:30 instead of 8:40, arriving at Didsbury 10 minutes earlier.

The afternoon train going north will leave Calgary at 4:30 instead of 5:05 and will arrive in Didsbury at 6:04.

The noon train going south will be 10 minutes later than at present, while the evening southbound will run on the same schedule as at present. The early morning southbound also runs on the same schedule.

Notice of Preparation of Assessment Roll.

TOWN OF DIDSBURY—ASSESSMENT, 1936.

NOTICE is hereby given that the assessment roll of the Town of Didsbury for the year 1936, has been prepared and is now open for inspection at the office of the Secretary Treasurer from the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon to four o'clock in the afternoon on every day which is not a public holiday, except Saturday, and on that day from ten o'clock in the forenoon until two o'clock in the afternoon, and that any person who desires to object to the entry of his name or that of any other person upon the said roll or to the assessment of any property or to the assessed value placed upon any property, must within thirty days after the date of this notice lodge a complaint in writing with the Sec. Treas.

Dated this 14th day of April, 1936,

Olds Golfers Interested In Didsbury Course.

The Olds golfers are considering where to play golf this year. Not having a golf course at Olds many of the golfing enthusiasts have travelled to Innisfail for their sport.

The following excerpt is taken from the Olds Gazette:

"Nine miles to the south of us there is a sporty nine-hole golf course which could be made into an attractive playground for the golfer. It is hardly to be expected that it will be very much improved solely by the Didsbury membership, but with an amalgamation with Olds wonders can be accomplished. Anyway, it is worth consideration, as it means a car run of 18 miles as against 46 miles. It figures out this way approximately: 20 trips or once a week for 5 months means an outlay for gas alone of $17.50 for the north trip, and the short haul trip at $7.50."

It would be to the advantage of the Didsbury Club to follow the lead and make an effort to interest our Olds friends to do their golfing at Didsbury.

GOPHER POISON. NOTICE.

The Municipality of Mountain View, No. 310, has arranged with the dealers in gopher poison at Didsbury, Olds and other points, to supply an equal amount of gopher poison to that paid for by the farmers of the municipality, the arrangement to be in effect until the 1st day of June, 1936.

The Council requests that the farmers place their poison early.

Musical Festival May 8.

629 Entries From Schools in the Olds Inspectorate.

To us it looks like "it can't be done," but as there is no such word as "can't," we'll leave it to the committees to figure out how 629 contestants are going, to say their little pieces, sing their little songs, stage plays and give a grand concert—in one day.

What a surprising entry, what interest, and to climax the whole situation, almost half of the entries are in the musical classes.

This was unexpected, as much individual attention is required by the teachers to train for musical numbers than for dramatics, and it augurs well for the young musical talent of the school districts in the Olds Inspectorate.

With 286 entries for the musical competitions it would appear that the engaging of more adjudicators is imperative, but at the meeting of the Musical Festival Committee to be held tonight (Friday) all such details will doubtless be attended to.

The PERFECT Chewing Tobacco

Eradication Of Tuberculosis

Great forward strides have been made in the fight to stem the toll of human life taken by tuberculosis in the prairie provinces in the past few years but there are evidences that complete victory has not yet been won. There is more work yet to be done before this enemy of mankind can be said to have been totally routed.

As most residents of that province are aware, tuberculosis in Saskatchewan was some years ago brought virtually within the category of State Medicine when the sanatoria were placed under the administration of the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League, with authority given the League to impose an annual tax levy on all municipalities, rural and urban, which, supported by government grants, furnishes the finances for treatment of all cases of the disease found within the province. In addition, it should be added, the funds for supplementary preventive work are secured from voluntary contributions realized by the sale of Christmas seals.

While not quite patterned on the Saskatchewan system, the fight against the disease in Manitoba is waged along somewhat similar lines and at the time of writing the Alberta Legislature has a bill before it which will virtually place the war against T. B. in that province within the State Medicine plane, if adopted.

As a result of the work done in Saskatchewan during the past decade, that province can boast, and with justification, that it is in the van of the fight and has to-day the lowest death rate from tuberculosis of any province in the Dominion, 30 per 1,000 deaths for last year.

Facts and figures show that, partly as a result of the preventive work, the incidence of the disease in Saskatchewan has passed the peak, that the former upward curve of the number of cases treated annually is now trending in a downward direction and that, as a further result, space in hospitals which have had to care for an overflow for which provision could not be made in the sanatoria, is no longer required for T.B. cases. An additional result is that patients in the sanatoria can be held there for treatment longer than was formerly possible, thus improving their chances of complete recovery.

While this is all to the good, there yet remain two real hazards to be definitely eradicated. These are the menace afforded by the Indian and the cow.

In the early days when the Indians roamed the prairies and lived in the open tuberculosis was practically unknown among them. It was not until they were taught to adopt the habits of the whites and confine themselves in permanent homes that they became subject to tuberculosis. Since that time the disease has become rampant among the aborigines and is taking heavy toll. In other words, the "whites" presented the Indians with tuberculosis and to-day the Indians are returning the compliment by infecting the whites with whom they come in frequent contact.

Figures were recently quoted showing that the incidence of tuberculosis among the Indian population of the prairie provinces is ten times as great as among the white inhabitants and it appears that very little at present is being done to cope with the menace.

The Indians are the wards of the Federal government and this is a situation which should receive the immediate attention of the authorities at Ottawa, if the efforts of the provincial governments in reducing the disease among the other residents of the provinces are not to be at least partially negated.

The other danger spot in the situation is the prevalence of bovine tuberculosis among cattle. While much has been done to reduce this disease among the cattle of the prairie provinces and to minimize the risk of infection from cattle to human beings via the milk route, there is still danger of infection from this source and will continue to be until it has been entirely stamped out of the herds.

Eradication will not be complete until such time as compulsory inspection of cattle for bovine tuberculosis and slaughter of all re-actors in the entire zone of the three provinces is in effect, but this consumption cannot be achieved until there is a sufficiently strong public demand for it.

May Move Woolwich Arsenal

Vulnerability Of London To Air Attacks Is Reason Given

New emphasis on the vulnerability of London to air attack is found in reports that the government is seriously considering moving sections of Woolwich arsenal to more remote places in the British Isles.

Talk of its removal has given the alarmists new occasion to paint a picture of gas, incendiary and explosive bombs, raining down upon the city—a city which already knows, from experience, of the terror of air raids.

It has provided proponents of a stronger air defence with new arguments in their claims that London, with its 8,000,000 inhabitants, and easily accessible from the continent, is not protected against the bombing plane.

Winston Churchill likened London to a "great fat cow which would soon be at the mercy of the nearest foraging dictator."

Public concern is likewise being fanned by current discussion in the press and in parliament as to the ability of the navy to defend itself against air attack. Counteracting this, however, there is the expansion, both real and indicated, of the Royal Air Force; the development of air defence; the hinted discovery of anti-aircraft weapons which would keep air invaders at bay, despite the fact London is but a matter of minutes from the continent by air.

Those who want the Woolwich arsenal moved claim it has so far been the "fatally weak spot" in every defence plan yet devised for London. No way has been found, it is stated, of protecting the arsenal and rendering it immune from attack from the skies.

King's Birthday

His Majesty Will Ride At Head Of His Troops On Anniversary

King Edward will ride at the head of his troops for the first time as sovereign when he celebrates his 42nd birthday, June 23.

It was officially announced His Majesty's birthday will be celebrated in London and at all stations of the royal navy, the army and the royal air force at home and abroad.

The principal function will be the trooping of the colors on the Horse Guards' parade. This was a ceremony always observed by the late King George, and on his last birthday, June 3, His late Majesty rode with his four sons in the picturesque ceremonial.

His Majesty's ships will be dressed over for the occasion, and royal salutes of 21 guns will be fired at certain stations. Land forces will hold ceremonial parades.

War Is Still On

Due To Omission In Participating In Signing Of Peace Treaties

A recent incident has revealed the fact that the republic of San Marino is still at war with Turkey.

The manager of a Turkish agricultural institute recently spent a few months in Europe in connection with scientific studies. When he crossed into the territory of San Marino he was greatly astonished when he was arrested as an undesirable national of a country at war with the republic.

In 1915 San Marino joined Italy in a declaration of war on Turkey, but, owing to some omission, it was invited neither to participate in the peace negotiations nor to sign the treaty of Lausanne with Turkey.

Subjects of the republic of San Marino in Turkey have always been treated as Italian nationals.

Concession To Indians

May Carry On With Potlatch Ceremony In British Columbia

Indians of the Alert Bay district in British Columbia were given another chance by the House of Commons to practice their ancient potlatch, once a regular orgy but now a more or less harmless ceremony dating back through the ages.

The potlatch has been dying out in recent years and is limited to Indians of the Kwakwaka'wakw agency on the Pacific coast who have refused to observe laws outlawing it. It is a sort of generosity spree in its present-day form. Indians collect all sorts of things, food, blankets or household utensils, call in their friends and give everything away. They have been known to impoverish themselves for years.

The Indian act provides jail sentences for Indians practicing the potlatch, but the Alert tribe had disregarded it. Indian Minister Crerar proposed a bill in the house making the laws still more stringent. It received second reading but he dropped the anti-potlatch clauses in committee stage after A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni) led a strenuous opposition to it.

The jail sentences still stand but the house decided to permit the evolutionary influences of education, which have stamped it out almost, to continue to combat it.

Harness 80 Years Old Is Still Being Used

Some kind of record may be claimed for a set of harness in almost daily use in the Orkney district of Saskatchewan. The harness is said to be around 80 years in use, having come to the United States in 1870 and found its way via Minnesota to Saskatchewan. Formerly used to decorate thoroughbred stallions and mares, it is now used on ponies which draw children to school.

The King's English

Recent Address Broadcast By Edward VIII. Was Good Sample

The papers freely discussed the address delivered by King Edward VIII. on March 1, the first to his people since ascending the throne. Considerable attention is given his choice of language and pronunciation. It is pointed out, for instance, that he used the word "radio," rather than "wireless," thus accepting the designation more common in Canada and the United States than in the Old Country. Another commentator mentions his pronunciation of "broadcast" with the short "a" as used in Canada and United States rather than the English inflection "broadeast." All seem to agree that he was as correct in his pronunciation as in his selection of styles in clothing, which is something, too, when it is realized that the new King was probably as nervous as any other ordinary man would be in approaching the microphone on such an auspicious occasion and, therefore, liable to some slight slip in pronunciation or articulation. — Port Arthur News Chronicle.

Advice From Chicago

Two Women Cabled League Delegates To Exercise Calmness

Just before the session of the League of Nations' council was to start on March 17 a messenger boy pedalled up to St. James' Palace bearing 14 urgent cablegrams, one to the head of each delegation.

They were from two Chicago women urging the delegates to exercise the calmest and most thoughtful statesmanship while dealing with the ticklish situation.

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

WOMEN who suffer periodically, who may have side-ache or headache, and those about to become mothers, will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a dependable tonic. Read what Mrs. Mary Hutchinson of 41 Inverness St., Stratford, Ont., said: "I became extremely nervous before the birth of my son and was so weak I could hardly be on my feet. I felt all dragged-out and weary and suffered with backache and headache. In the morning I would become very dizzy. I realized to lose any more strength would be dangerous, so I started taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it all during this period but improved from the very beginning." Lord Tweedsmuir Tells How University Training Enriches Private Life

"My last word to you on the value of university training is that it enables a man to lead a double life," wrote Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada, in the McGill News.

"That sounds a shocking piece of advice for your visitor to give you. But if you think it over, I believe you will agree that it is sound," the governor-general said as he concluded references to hobbies that "lift the mind out of its groove and give it a happy playground to which it can constantly turn for refreshment. They preserve your vitality and they keep old age at bay."

The university enriched private life. "It provides certain permanent intellectual interests which are always there in the background as a refuge and a refreshment."

He had always tried to have one or two subjects on hand on which he worked and which engaged a different part of oneself from that which was employed in earning one's bread. "You may call it a hobby but it was a hobby taken quite seriously."

Such interests kept a man or a woman young. Lord Tweedsmuir referred to the late Lord Balfour using his leisure from politics for relief "in the purer air of science and philosophy." Walter Leaf, a leader in British banking, became perhaps the greatest authority on the Homeric poems. There were many other examples, he said.

In his capacity as Visitor to the university Lord Tweedsmuir wrote "A Message to McGill Graduates" for the quarterly published by the Graduates' Society.

He recalled his three years at Glasgow University where "I had to walk four miles to the 8 o'clock class through all the varieties of unspeakable weather with which Glasgow, in winter, fortifies her children."

He was "an inconspicuous student, and I won prominence only at the rectorial elections. One especially I remember where, against my convictions, I chose to support the Liberal colors, because I had heard of the Liberal candidate, Mr. Asquith, but not of his opponent. I nearly came by my end at the hands of a red-headed Conservative savage, who is now the ex-cabinet minister, Sir Robert Horne."

The session lasted only half the year. "After a winter of hard work I became for six months an unlettered vagabond, wandering about Scotland on an old bicycle in the quest of trout. I am not sure that these long idle summers were not the best part of my education."

Oxford University had "smoothed out the prig and the barbarian in me and, I hope, gave me a reasonable perspective in life." Since then, said Lord Tweedsmuir, who won fame as John Buchan, novelist and historian, "I have had many professions—lawyer, businessman, soldier, government official, politician. But my university life has given me a permanent background, the value of which I would like to suggest to you."

Close Custom Houses

Economies Effected And Planned By National Revenue Department

Economies and planned in the national revenue department were outlined by Revenue Minister J. L. Isley when his estimates were considered in the House of Commons. Some 15 or 20 customs ports have been closed since the minister took over the department and he was convinced there were still too many.

Canada, in fact, had a superabundance of customs ports as compared with other countries. There were still 433 in Canada. The United States, with its huge population and great volume of trade, had only 269 and Great Britain had only 80.

Doctors used to regard cancer and tuberculosis as diseases antagonistic to one another; but now it is realized that individuals may have both at once, and even in the same organ.

Best Ration For Hens

Food Should Be Of Type That Is Easily Digested

W. C. Tully of the Poultry Department at South Dakota State College says that 80 per cent. of the feed a hen eats is needed to keep the body in good condition and to furnish heat and energy. That leaves 20 per cent. or 20 pounds out of 100 pounds of feed for eggs. This means that there should be very little indigestible matter in the hen's rations. The story is told of a farmer who was feeding corn ground with the cob, ground oats with hulls, alfalfa, salt, meat scraps, and bran, and wondered why he wasn't getting eggs. He said a dairyman gave him the feed formula and his cows were doing fine.

"Some people seem to think that the hens should be able to eat the same kind of feed that is fed to the cows and hogs; and, to some extent, they can. Next time you dress a chicken do it slowly. Pull out the crop first. How much will it hold? How much ground corn cob and oat hulls can the hen take into it and have room for something that is really food? And how much food value do you think there is in corn cob and oat hulls?"

Now, look at the stomach, which is about the size of your thumb. Cut it open and look at the little cone-shaped humps through which the fluid to help digest the feed must come. How long do you think it will take to soak up the ground corn cob and oat hulls, besides the corn and oats, the ground alfalfa, bran, and meat scraps? The gizzard? Sure, the gizzard can do wonders, but why force it to work all day for nothing? It not only wastes energy, but it means the hen can barely make a living.

Corn cob, hulls of oats, coarse hay, etc., are injurious to the hen's digestive organs and it is far better and more economical to have them sifted out before feeding.

No Ground For Belief

Fence Posts Set Small End Down Do Not Last Longer

A common belief among farmers is that a post will last longer if set in the ground the reverse of the way it grew in the tree; in other words, with the butt end down. The supposition is that sap in a tree is always ascending, or at least that it is easier for the sap to flow up than down. As a matter of fact, sap or water will flow in either direction with equal facility, and the popular notion to the contrary is incorrect.

The Ohio agricultural experimental station set out a fence that contained 156 black locust posts, of which 86 were set with the top end up, 39 with the top end down and 31 did not show in what position they were set. At the end of 20 years 30 posts, or 19 per cent., were decayed. Of this number 15 were top up, 13 top down, and four undetermined. In other words, one-third of those set top down rotted off, compared with only a little over one-sixth of those set top up. From this and numerous other observations the conclusion was reached "that there is no difference which end is put in the ground, except that the sounder or larger end should have the preference."

The decay of a post is mostly at the ground line, since it is there that the conditions of air and moisture are most favorable to the development of rot-causing fungi. Other things being equal, the larger the post the longer it will last.

Prefers Simple Clothes

Ruling 60,000,000 subjects, including those of the Netherlands' colonies, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is said to have an income of more than $5,000,000 a year from the Far Eastern crown lands. This makes her one of the wealthiest women in the world, points out Lemuel Parton. But she never has played up to this distinction. She won't wear a Paris dress or hat. Her clothes are made in Holland, with no fuss about it.

The Gardens Of England

Most Popular One On View Is At Sandringham

People on this side of the Atlantic hear much about the glory of English gardens, not the gardens of the working people, but of the stately homes. When they go over for a trip they visit the places of historic interest and the better known beauty spots, and it is not sufficiently known that special tours can be arranged so that they may see many of the most beautiful gardens for a small sum at each place, the money usually being donated by the owner to a local charity or, more often, to the Queen's Institute of District Nurses. There are, in fact, over 1,000 gardens on view. Some of these have traditions for 500 years back, one of the most interesting of the older gardens being at Ann Hathaway's cottage, near Stratford-on-Avon, which Shakespeare knew so well.

The most popular garden is, of course, Sandringham, in Norfolk, which the King throws open three times a week. The late King was always very interested in the gardens scheme and handed over £1,000 last year which was taken at Sandringham alone, a greater sum incidentally than was raised by any one county. Among the greater historic homes which are open at regular intervals are Hatfield, a few miles from London, the home of the Cecils; Knole, in Kent, the home of the Sackvilles; Chatsworth, in Derbyshire, the great palace of the Cavendishes; Broomfield, the home of Melbourne and Palmerston; Harewood House, the home of the Princess Royal, and Eaton Hall, the home of the Dukes of Westminster. In homes such as these, English history has been made for several centuries.

Wintry Settings

Hollywood Now Has Plant For Making Real Snow

Film companies seeking wintry settings and icy air can find them now at home, in the midst of Hollywood's palms and semi-tropical weather. A former ice refrigeration plant has been converted into a "wintry" sound stage, where nature's cold tricks may be reproduced artificially.

Snowstorms, using real snow, will be created by a snow machine in two styles, the fine hard snow of blizzards and the soft, flaked snow of milder weather. An actor caught in a "blizzard" will be pelted with pulverized ice. Snowflakes are the product of crystallized water. Both types of snow are driven on the scene through a four-inch hose, the force regulated by the speed of fans in the machine.

Roman Emperor Augustus decorated the walls of his villa in Capri with great fossil bones—which he believed were bones of human giants once inhabiting Italy.

Health League Of Canada Making Great Strides In Decreasing Mortality Rate

"While it is true that great advances have been made in the control of communicable diseases there are other diseases which are at the present time taking too great a toll of life. I have in mind such conditions as heart disease, tuberculosis, pneumonia, influenza and cancer, particularly the latter, Major Hon. C. G. Power, M.C., Minister of Pensions and National Health, told the annual meeting of the Ottawa Social Hygiene Council recently.

Major Power complimented the Council, its parent body the Health League of Canada and all active health agencies on the strides made in decreasing the mortality rate of such diseases as diphtheria and typhoid fever by educating the public to a greater use of toxoids, pasteurization and other preventive measures.

At the same time he pointed out that there was no positive prevention against cancer, tuberculosis and heart disease. Nevertheless all are curable if treated in their early states of development. To that end the one positive means of control was the periodic health examination which assured early recognition and consequently punctual and effective treatment.

How necessary it is to check the spread of cancer is indicated by the fact that there were 10,570 known cancer-deaths in the Dominion in 1934. Similarly there has been a marked increase in deaths due to heart disorders since 1926 when vital statistics for the whole of Canada were available for the first time. While tuberculosis-deaths are known to be on the decline, medical authorities are of the opinion that they could have been decreased 50 per cent. last year if the measures for combating the disease had been more "uniformly and effectively" applied.

Asserting that the one and only real fear attached to cancer to-day should be the "fear of delay in its discovery" Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, formerly Chief Inspector of Health for Ontario, urges the people of this province to give attention to its control by early treatment.

Symptoms stressed by Dr. McCullough are lumps, unhealing sores, digestive troubles, difficulty in swallowing and chronic hoarseness. It is a fact, he states, that "95 per cent. of cases of cancer occur after 35 years of age."

"Pain is not an early sign. It is a pity that it is not and as severe as that of a bad toothache. If it were the disease would be discovered when it is certainly curable," he said.

On the diagnosis of any symptoms he was emphatic: "Be sure you get a decided opinion one way or another. You either have cancer or you haven't. There is nothing else to it. And if you have the sooner you know it the better."

Hereditary cancer, Dr. McCullough states, occurs only in two or three very rare forms. Age and chronic irritation are the chief causes and therefore demand the constant vigilance of the people themselves. So far as irritation is concerned it is a fact that some people are far more susceptible than others.

Activities in the formation of local branches of the Health League of Canada, formerly the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, are noticeable throughout the province. St. Catharines, according to Dr. D. V. Currey, Medical Officer of Health, has already begun organization work which will be completed in the very near future. At its recent annual meeting the Ottawa Social Hygiene Council voted the incoming executive the power to change the name of that branch to conform with the new name chosen by the parent body.

This week's health fact: For an average million persons in the United States there will occur annually between 800,000 and 900,000 cases of illness. It may be predicted that for this average million, that, though 470,000 will not be sick during a normal year, 460,000 will be sick once or twice, and 70,000 will suffer three or more illnesses. Of those who become ill 25 per cent. will be disabled for periods ranging from one week to the full year. The annual money lost in wages caused by this sickness in families with small and modest incomes will be not less than $900,000,000 and the still larger expenses of medical cases probably are not less than $1,500,000,000.

Americans Import Grass

Demand For Crested Wheatgrass Exceeds The Supply

Because of its value as a forage crop that will regrow arid land of low value, demand for crested wheatgrass seeds exceeds the supply, according to a report from the U.S. department of agriculture.

The grass was introduced into the United States from the dry plains of Siberia. The unusual demand for seed was attributed to several causes. The excellent way in which the grass came back last year after two years of drought, its value for hay and pasture, and the comparative ease with which it can be harvested and planted have proven its value to the farmer, the department said.

Experiments made at Judith Basin, Mont., have disclosed that cattle pastured more days and made greater gains on fewer acres of crested wheatgrass than brome or native grass. Wheatgrass lasted 141 days, as compared with 125 days for brome and 55 days for native grass. The average gain per steer in pounds was 291 for wheatgrass 249 for brome, and 114 for native grass. Similar results were obtained at other stations.

The grass appears two or four weeks earlier than native grass in the spring and lasts four to six weeks longer in the fall, if moisture conditions are favorable. It makes hay of a high quality, is a good seed producer, and is an excellent grass to use in rotation, especially as a sod crop for flax.

Not In His Line

Three sailors were spending their Easter leave in the country. Presently two of them got into a heated argument over what kind of animal a heifer was.

"It's a sort of pig," said one. "Not on your life," replied the other. "It's a kind of sheep."

Finally they called in the third party.

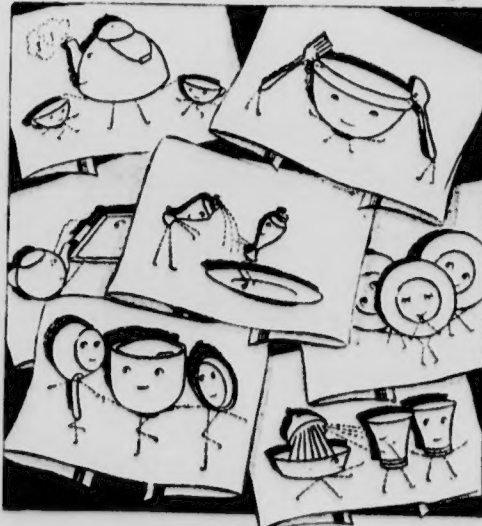

"Bill," said the first sailor, "wot's a heifer—is it a pig or a sheep?"

Bill scratched his head, nonplussed.

"To tell you the truth, shipmates," he said, "I dunno much about poultry."

Nighthawks, birds that fly mostly at night, make their migration flights by daylight.

Swine Pasture Is Real Green Gold

Swine fed an ideal ration, as in Denmark, may have no need for pasture, but under Western Canadian conditions, usually far from ideal, the use of good pasture will return substantial dividends.

Experiments conducted at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, comparing the growth of pigs fed a straight grain ration in dry lot, with that of pigs on pasture receiving the same grain mixture, have shown remarkable results. The pigs on pasture made about 30% quicker gains and 20% cheaper gains than those in dry lot, thereby proving conclusively the great value of pasture for hog production under Alberta conditions.

Expensive grass and legume mixtures need not be used. In fact, the most satisfactory hog pasture ever grown at the Lacombe Station is a combination of fall rye, oats and rape. Two bushels of oats and one of fall rye per acre are mixed and seeded early in the spring. The rape is seeded separately, preferably in rows thirty inches apart at the rate of 4 to 5 pounds per acre.

This combination affords constant succession of fresh pasture crops. The oats make a quick growth and provide early pasture. Since hogs prefer oats to rye they will not touch the latter until the oats are fairly well eaten down, then the rye provides late summer and early fall pasture. As rape is still less palatable than rye the hogs don't touch it until most of the other growth is gone, and it will carry the pigs until freeze-up. One acre of this combination pasture will easily carry twenty growing pigs.

Because the pasture lot must be plowed and freshly seeded each spring this treatment assists materially in controlling parasites and in maintaining the pigs in a generally thrifty condition.

Items of Interest

The Edmonton by-election to fill the legislature seat made vacant by the resignation of Liberal Leader W. R. Howson on March 3 when he was appointed to the Alberta Supreme Court bench, probably will be held either June 15 or June 22, it was indicated Saturday. Acting Premier J. W. Huggill said the date had not been set by the government yet, but indicated that June 22 might be the day.

Presumably as a measure of economy the Alberta Gazette, official provincial government publication, is being printed on a lower grade paper. The glossy surfaced paper used for many years has been replaced by ordinary newsprint, copies received in Calgary on Monday revealed.

Representing every constituency in the province, between 110 and 125 Liberals comprising the Alberta provincial executive, will meet at Sylvan Lake in late June to select a date and place for holding a general convention and selecting a successor to Mr. Justice W. R. Howson, former leader of the party in Alberta.

SOCIAL CREDIT NOTES.

The members of Didsbury S.C. Group No. 1 held their regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schwesinger, with a good attendance. Mrs. Schwesinger spoke on "Interest" and where the money for the basic dividends should be obtained from, without the levying of the unearned increment. Mr. Schwesinger spoke on "The Just Price for Wheat and Other Grain." This matter was thoroughly discussed, but the members did not come to any definite conclusion on this important topic. The assembly voiced its protest against the untrue statements made in the Calgary Herald last Saturday about the decrease of the Social Credit spirit of the people of Didsbury. As a matter of fact the movement is growing steadily and the membership in the various groups is continuously growing. The group decided to hold a public pie social in the near future. Lunch was served by the ladies and this brought a most pleasant evening to a close. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dickau on Monday evening, May 4.

Vancouver's Golden Jubilee

Fifty years ago the first trans-continental Canadian Pacific Railway train from Montreal reached the Pacific Coast. This summer Vancouver, now the Gateway to the Orient and port for ships of the entire world, will celebrate the Golden Jubilee of its founding as the western terminal of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Commencing July 1 with Dominion and International Good Will Week, the programme concludes with the Canada Pacific Exhibition on September 7, and includes land and water sports, several weeks of grand pageantry, musical attractions, visit of American warships, a two-day air show with a solo flight across Canada planned as the highlight, floral decorations, visit of 15,000 Shriners in mid-July, traditional pageantry of an Aldershot tattoo, frontier week, street dancing and costume balls, and historical exhibits arranged to illustrate Vancouver's steady progress during the first half century of its existence.

Even before the beginning of the celebration proper, many colorful events will be given recognition, including Empire Day and horticulture show in May; Pioneers' festival on June 13-14; schools' programme in June; Eucharistic Congress, which will attract thousands, June 11 to 14; golf tournament, King's birthday, and religious dedicatory services.

One of the highlights of Vancouver's celebration will be the re-enacting of the arrival of the first Canadian Pacific train almost half a century ago. The venerable old engine, first to the coast, will be run again, with its original pilot, W. H. Evans, at the throttle. Some of the old-timers who saw the first train arrive will also be present for the ceremony. The Canadian Pacific Railway will run tours at low cost from Eastern Canada to the Pacific Coast for the event, with stop-over privileges at Banff Springs Hotel, Chateau Lake Louise, and other famous Rocky Mountain resorts.

Pictures show the old and the new Vancouver, and Sir William Van Horne, second president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who chose the name of Vancouver in 1884 for the western terminal of the first trans-continental railway line.

Weekly News Letter

From Edmonton.
By T. B. Windross.

EDMONTON, Alberta.—There is a lull in the excitement in the political arena following the end of the session of the legislature, but it is only the quiet before the busy season and soon Premier Aberhart will be back in his office after his rest at the Pacific coast, and happenings in the Edmonton political circles will take on an increased interest once more.

Just now all eyes are on the opposition parties, with a thought for the inevitable by-election to fill the vacant seat in the legislature formerly occupied by Mr. Justice Howson, x-Liberal chief in the province.

Conservatives have finally decided to hold "hands off" this time and leave the field to the Liberals and whatever other party decided to make a run for it. The Liberals will hold their convention at an early date and select a candidate, and there is just a possibility that an election may be avoided by giving the Liberal candidate an acclamation. It is still possible that the Social Crediters may decide on trying their chances for one more seat, however, though most people think that this will not be attempted. The only other possibility is a Labor candidate, and Alderman Miss Crang has been suggested as a candidate.

Among Liberals there are several aspirants for the honor. Eight possible entrants under the Grit banner are being named. They are: Mrs. Marian Conroy, E. C. Fisher, H. H. Parlee, K. C., Dr. Valter Morrish, J. Marshall, J. C. McDonald, K. C., S. Staveley Kerr and J. S. Cowper. Social Crediters thought likely to get the nomination include Orvis Kennedy, Alderman C. Gould and Alderman G. Paterson, but as stated above no decision has yet been made to run a government candidate.

It is being said in some quarters that there is much dissatisfaction among merchants over the government's decision to administer the master code instead of leaving its enforcement to the retailers themselves. No decision has yet been made in Edmonton to draw the attention of the government to the dissatisfaction by means of a protest meeting such as was held in Calgary recently. Three members of the advisory committee have come out against the plan of the administration. They are Fred Heath, G. W. Hazlett and T. H. Campbell.

The new provincial act for the licensing of trades and businesses came into effect Wednesday last and there are upwards of 10,000 firms affected under its scope, it has been announced by the ministry of trade and industry. All trades and businesses are included in the terms of the act whether they are operating under a code or not. Some of the trades and services are already under code regulations, among them the dry cleaners.

According to the Alberta Gazette the retail license fees are as follows: Owner or manager and up to two clerks $2.00; owner or manager and up to five clerks $4.00; owner or manager and over five clerks $6.00. Additional license of $1.00 each is required when a store handling more than one classification is in competition with a store handling one of the same lines exclusively in the same municipality, village, town or city. In all cases delivery boys are exempt when the number of clerks is reckoned.

Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, has been inspecting the roads in the southern part of the province and has announced that construction of standard market or secondary roads forms part of the government's highway program. He told interviewers that the government was trying to get farmers to agree to keep the roads in condition when once they are built.

"If farmers in a municipality will get together and agree on where the road is to be built, and build it with screened gravel, the provincial government will assist them financially and then maintain the road after it is finished by sending patrol graders to keep it surfaced," the minister declared.

Some considerable relief was felt here when it became known this week that the exemptions from the new sales tax were issued by Hon. J. W. Hugill, acting premier, showing the list to be more numerous than was at first expected. Exemptions include most of the primary necessities of life, many of the primary needs of industry, most foods, agricultural needs, many of the secondary needs in conducting business, and all commodities sold for consumption or use outside the province.

Some discussion has been heard in the capital over the probable date for the coming Edmonton by-election and two dates have been mentioned as likely, June 15 and June 22.

An interesting point came up for explanation during the week in connection with the administration of the codes in retail merchandising. At the request of a Vancouver tea-packing firm it was stated that manufacturers' premiums will not be affected by the new provincial regulations. Housewives therefore will still be able to get their premiums and use the coupons issued with their favorite food products as in the past.

Hon. Charles Cockcroft gave assurance during the week that investment dealers and bondholders will be given proper notice before the Alberta government takes steps to proclaim the new compulsory refunding act, which gives the government power to refund the entire provincial debt of more than $160,000,000 at lower rates of interest. This assurance was given to a delegation of Edmonton bond dealers who waited on the provincial treasurer.

Hon. C. C. Ross, minister of lands and mines, has been busy in Ottawa for the past month, where he went at the suggestion of the legislature to attend the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy Convention. He is reported to have been active in securing new investments by Eastern interests in Alberta developments. Mr. Ross is regarded in some quarters as the best card in the hands of the administration, and his selection for his present portfolio is one of the most encouraging things Premier Aberhart could have done. His work in developing the province's resources is expected to be a large factor in keeping the wheels of progress turning, no matter what political stripe the government may wear.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c

Youth Congress

To Obtain Expression Of Opinion On Peace Policy

A congress of Canadian people will be held in Ottawa, May 23, 24 and 25. Delegates and representatives from youth organizations of every opinion from every part of Canada, will participate.

The congress is being called to obtain an expression of general youth opinion on "A Peace Policy for Canada" and "Youth in the Canadian Economy." Mutual agreement will be sought on these problems to be used as a guide to the Canadian delegation to the World Youth Congress in Geneva in early September.

It is being called by a committee under the chairmanship of T. W. L. MacDermot, principal of Upper Canada College. Initiated by the League of Nations' Society in Canada and the Canadian Youth Council, this committee is being enlarged to include representatives from all national young people's organizations, including the political groups, and regional representatives from various parts of Canada.

The agenda as prepared by the committee, includes, under the heading, "Youth in the Canadian Economy," discussions on employment, education and vocational training, recreation and social legislation. Under the heading, "A Peace Policy for Canada," discussion will be directed to Canada's relation to the Empire and to the League of Nations, the right of governments to commit people to war and the control of raw material. The final discussion, in the form of summary, is headed "The Duty of Canadian Youth" in particular relation to Canada, to the world, to the promotion of the ideals of the congress and the understanding of the problems of youth.

The committee is working on some plan to materially reduce the expense to delegates from distant points. Headquarters for the congress committee are at 92 Adelaide street West, Toronto.

8 tablespoons cold water
1½ cups fine granulated sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder

Beat yolks with a Dover beater until thick and lemon colored. Add 4 tablespoons cold water and continue beating. Add the sugar, lemon rind and 1 cup of flour and beat until thick. Add the remaining 4 tablespoons of cold water and flour, which has been sifted four times with the baking powder and salt. Beat 3 minutes. Fold in stiffly beaten whites and half fill an ungreased tube pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in an oven 350 degrees F.

A Great Advantage

The new trans-Atlantic air service planned to link Britain and Canada will be extended to the United States because of the "obvious advantages" of securing a portion of America's mail and passenger traffic, Sir Philip Sassoon, under-secretary for air, told the British House of Commons.

Cats are color-blind. They live in a world of grey, monotonous sameness.

Canada's Musical Talent

Dominion Occupies Position Of Distinction, Says Adjudicator

Canada was maintaining a position of distinction in the musical world, Harold Samuel, professor of the Royal College of Music, London, and adjudicator for the Canadian musical festival, said on his arrival at Halifax aboard the liner Duchess of Bedford.

On his third visit as an adjudicator, Mr. Samuel remarked that critics who came to the Dominion with an air of "superiority" left after judging Canadian talent "with a far different opinion."

Talent here was equally meritorious as that found in Great Britain, the United States and other countries, he stated. "Canadians are most sympathetic towards the higher class of music. The interest and enthusiasm displayed on my last visit was remarkable."

He was accompanied by David Yacamin of Perth, Scotland. Mr. Yacamin leads the Perth Madrigal choir and will judge choral music in the festival. This is his first visit to Canada as an adjudicator.

A Delicate Operation

Australian Boy To Go To United States To Have Nail Removed From Lung

Through the co-operation of the United States and Australian governments, three-year-old Kelvin Rodgers will sail from Melbourne on a 10,000-mile trip to Philadelphia to have a nail in his right lung removed.

The shipping board announced that free passage for the boy and his mother had been arranged on the government-owned American Pioneer Line's motorship Jeff Davis. Australian specialists have had the boy under treatment more than a year but have been unable to remove the nail because of lack of special surgical equipment. Dr. Chevalier Jackson, of Temple University hospital, will perform the operation.

Kelvin is one of four children of a motor mechanic earning $20 a week whose funds have been exhausted by the long medical battle against death unless the nail is removed soon.

Seek Canadian Exhibits

South Africa Wants Dominion Represented At Empire Show

Canadian exhibits for the Empire Exhibition at Johannesburg, South Africa, are being sought, according to a letter received at the Regina Board of Trade from F. P. Cosgrove, of the Government Exhibition Commission, Ottawa. The pamphlet accompanying the letter outlines facilities available for the Canadian section of the exhibition and gives details of the arrangements. South Africa, it points out, is the fifth best market for Canadian goods.

Preserve Gun Carriage

Used For Funeral Of King George V. It Will Be Kept At Woolwich

The gun carriage used for the funeral of King George V. was taken from the Royal Horse Artillery depot at St. Johns Wood to headquarters of the artillery service at Woolwich to which, it will be officially handed over for preservation under cover.

The gun carriage which bore King Edward VII. through London is in the armour museum at the Tower of London.

Concentrated Sunlight

Harnesses Sun Power With A Revolving Battery Of Mirrors

H. E. McCoy, bald Los Angeles inventor, gingerly held a steel plate in front of a beam of his "concentrated sunlight" and chuckled as the ray promptly melted a hole through the plate, the molten metal dripping down like melted butter.

He waved triumphantly at a huge revolving battery of 60 mirrors which was focussing the bright California noon-day sun into a beam some 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit in temperature.

"We'll run all our factories with 'sun power' through outfits like this some day," he declared.

McCoy's invention consists of three panels, each holding 20 curved slabs of silvered window glass. They tip up or down and run on a circular track, following the sun's path from east to west. The sun's rays are kept aimed constantly on a fire-brick oven 15 feet away.

All the sunlight striking 60 square feet of mirror is concentrated on the small target, raising the temperature to approximately half the terrific heat of the surface of the sun itself.

McCoy says he has melted, among other metals, tungsten carbide, indicating the furnace develops well over 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Believe It Or Not

Englishman Claims Mummified Hawk Bleeds During Any British Crisis

If ever war is declared on Great Britain, Sir Mark Grant-Sturgis will only have to look at a mummified hawk which he owns. The bird will be bleeding from beak and breast. The hawk originally came from Egypt, and I understand that its habit of bleeding during British crises was discovered at the time of the Boer War. Throughout this war and the Great War the hawk bled continuously. Sir Mark saw the bird the other day. Unmoved by Italo-Abyssinian bloodshed, the patriotic hawk remains as dry as a bone.—Daily Mirror.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

CHAPTER X.

Fleming ran down the few steps from the saloon platform, crossed the board sidewalk, and grasped her pinto's bridle. "Robbed?" he echoed. "You mean our eight hundred—it's gone?"

"Yes! As I rode past the timber near Iron Spring a man held me up. I—I struggled with him," she panted. "But he got our eight hundred dollars. Oh, Link, what shall we do?"

He slipped the pinto's reins over his arm. Out of the corners of his eyes he saw men hurrying from the saloon. "Ssh—make out it don't amount to much. Helen," he added with quick concern at sight of a dark bruise on her cheek. "You're hurt!"

"N-no. It's nothing." She touched the spot and with fingers that trembled, tucked her glossy hair into place and readjusted her worn Stetson. The girl brushed dust from her blouse and skirt and glanced toward the approaching men. Suddenly her eyes encountered Buzz. At first she gulped incredulously and her red lips parted. Then uttering a low cry, Helen darted forward.

"Buzz!" She flung herself into his arms. "Buzz!"

Fleming, with Roper Kilgo, Mell, and the others watched for an instant the mute display of affection between brother and sister. Touched by the scene, they turned away. Link felt a hand on his arm and looked up into the grey glinting eyes of Sheriff Ames Stephen.

"She got robbed, Link? How much? Who did it? Where?"

He could not reply to the third question but did answer the first. "Ames," the Star Loop owner said in a tone the others could not hear; "don't let out how much, 'cause it'd make things harder for us at the dam. Helen got robbed of eight hundred bucks we just borrowed from Otto Pieper."

The law man's eyes widened. He strode over to the girl, Fleming at his heels. "Tell me about it, Miss Hamilton, so's I can start huntin' for the guy right off!"

There was another moment of staring at Buzz, taking his thin face between her two soft palms while she kissed him again and again. "Oh!" she breathed as happy, thankful tears coasted down the smooth tan of her cheeks. "I'm glad you're free. Buzz! Nothing else matters now. But how—" She stopped. "I don't understand. Your three years—?"

"Link got me paroled." Buzz measured the rancher with eyes that expressed not the slightest gratitude.

Helen turned to look at Fleming, who shifted weight in embarrassment. At length he lifted his gaze to find hers still fixed upon him. Unspeakable tenderness lay in the soft pool of her eyes, and a fondness he had scarcely dared hope even to exist. Of a sudden he felt again that the Silver Creek project must be made a success! So that later, when both spreads prospered from its waters, he could ask Helen the question he had toyed with inwardly while they looked at the wedding and engagement ring display in Irv Lane's window.

She was describing the holdup. "He wore a bandana mask and walked out from behind a big boulder right alongside the road. He had two guns, and he was a heavy-set man, not very tall, but powerful looking. He wanted the money we—I—had just drawn from the bank."

"How much?" Kilgo asked directly.

"I had my thirty-eight," she continued, pretending not to hear. "I tried to get it, but he came at me and grabbed my wrist. Pulled me off my horse, and we struggled. He—he hurt me, bending my arm behind my back. But I got a clue," she finished with grim-set lips. "I got this!"

Helen held forth a leather wrist cuff such as was commonly worn by punchers. It was not new but dark with use, and its rivet design of a fleur-de-lis could only be made out

COULD NOT SLEEP because of Headaches!

Now well again
and gains weight

"I used to have headaches so severe I could not sleep. I tried everything without success until I started Fruit-a-tives. In a short time I gained weight and never suffer any more from the old bad headaches," says Mrs. J. Scriver, 258 Earl St., Kingston, Ont.

Fruit-a-tives are not habit-forming nor do they give just temporary relief. They contain extracts of APPLES, ORANGES, FIGS, PRUNES and HERBS and work naturally to cleanse and tone up the entire system. Fruit-a-tives have brought permanent relief to thousands. Try them today.

FRUIT-A-TIVES A Famous Doctor's Prescription

on close inspection. Ames accorded it a brief scrutiny and held the object aloft. "Anybody know whose this is?"

Apparently no one did. The cuff resembled others worn by many a man in Boone County, yet was not exactly similar. At length Stephen turned on his heel, starting toward his office fifty yards down the street. "I'm goin' for a look at the place," he announced briefly. "Might be there's other clues. Sounds like that guy Berrens, maybe, that killed Soak Torney an' put dynamite in Link's stove. Anyhow, I'll get that money back. Might take some time, but we'll grab the guy sooner or later!"

There was some doubt of this in Link's mind, but he did not voice it as he touched Helen's arm. "Do you think we might start for the ranch now?"

"Oh! Yes, I think we had better. Link," she added in a low tone, "could we get another loan from Otto Pieper?"

"Don't think so. We better get out of town before Otto hears about this. There'd only be an argument and everybody'd find out about our business."

Roper Kilgo held her pinto while the girl remounted. "I'm shore sorry that hombre had the crust to lay a finger on yuh, Helen. By gosh, if I meet up with 'im it'll be lead fust an' talk afterward, yuh bet!" He flung a surly glance at Link. "Oughtn't to've been allowed to go alone anyhow if yuh had money along," Roper growled.

Fleming had dispatched Luke Green to his livery barn for a saddle horse, and this was now brought for Buzz Hamilton. He climbed astride somewhat stiffly but seemed pleased at the feel of a mount between his legs after so long a period, and they started at a trot out of Rawhide.

For some time Link rode in silence, listening to the eager questions Helen put to her brother. But young Hamilton was moody from the liquor he had consumed in the Half Moon, and once the excitement of their reunion waned, he adopted an attitude of dogged sullenness.

Presently Helen urged her mount closer to Link's. "Is this the surprise you had for me? Is it what you spoke to Sheriff Stephen about?"

He nodded. "I figured we'd come out of the bank about the time the stage rolled in so you'd get a real surprise. O course," he said so that Buzz could not hear, "I didn't plan on him gettin' into the saloon."

She cast a worried glance at her brother. He had turned his head away for a furtive sip from a pint flask of whisky. Stowing it in his pocket, he faced front, watching them covertly to see if they had noticed.

Helen's face wore a look of despair. She rode close to her brother and laid a hand on his arm. "I wish you wouldn't do that, Buzz," she said softly. "You know, I'm so glad you are back, and we're going to have such a wonderful time, starting all over again. You must forget the past and think only of the future. Wasn't it generous of Link to arrange to to get your freedom, Buzz?"

He answered with a malevolent look. "Still puttin' his game over on yuh! Generous? Yeah to himself!"

"Why, Buzz! Whatever do you mean?"

"I mean he's roped yuh into his fool irrigation scheme—what folks call Fleming's Folly. He's afraid yuh might back out while there's still a chance to save our Triple H from bankruptcy. So for a last play to keep yuh fooled he got me paroled. That, and because he was afraid Kilgo would get me a full pardon, the only thing really worth while. If I had my legal rights Fleming couldn't figure to keep the wool pulled over yore eyes! Paroled this way, I haven't got 'em."

Helen stared from one man to the other, her piquant oval face drawn in pain. "Oh, Buzz, don't say that! I went into partnership with Link of my own free will. Why, that dam is going to be the makings of our spread!"

Again he fished the flat bottle from his pocket. "Makin' of the Star Loop, yuh mean!" Uncorking the flask, he raised it to his lips.

"Buzz! Don't drink, please! You know you—that it was part of the cause of your shooting—I mean—" She stopped, anxiety and hurt fighting for dominance of her lovely face. "Buzz, please don't begin drinking and gambling the instant you come home!"

He swallowed some of the fiery liquor as if deliberately to flaunt her request. But of a sudden, as he was stowing the bottle away, Link spurred his stallion to Hamilton's off-side. With a quick sweep of his hand he sent the bottle hurtling into the dust.

Buzz gasped. "What the hell yuh doin'?"

"Keep this up and your parole is going to end doggoned sudden. I planned to surprise your sister, make her happy for sight of you, and here you go back to company like Jackpot Mell and the others the minute you land in town. Watch your step!" Fleming warned sharply. "Or you'll find yourself on the inside lookin' out, like you were till I went to a lot of bother to help you!"

"Threatening me, eh? I wish to gosh yuh'd let Roper Kilgo get me pardoned! You an' yore schemes for controlling our spread! Wastin' every cent Helen has, and then buyin' us in."

Uses Special Piano

Josef Hofmann, the noted pianist, uses a sloping chair. The piano he uses is said to have slightly narrower keys than the regular make, because Hofmann's fingers are very short, and the edges of the keys are beveled to minimize friction. Hofmann was born in Cracow, Galicia.

Tin cans were first made by tin-smiths, who turned them out by hand at the rate of 60 a day.

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain"
Remedy You Use
is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's
Well-Being to Unknown
Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Little Helps For This Week

In your patience possess ye your souls. Luke 21:19.

What though thy way be dark,
and earth
With ceaseless care doth vex till mirth

To thee no sweet strain singeth;
Still hide thy life above, and still Believe that God is love; fulfill Whatever lot He Bringeth.

The soul loses command of itself when it is impatient. When it submits without a murmur it possesses itself in peace, and possesses God. To be impatient is to desire what we have not, or not to desire what we have. Why make a calamity of it by being impatient? Peace does not dwell in outward things, but within the soul. We may preserve it in the midst of bitterest pain if our will remains firm and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquiescence even in disagreeable things, not in an exemption from bearing them. The chief pang of most trials is not so much the actual suffering itself as our own spirit of resistance to it.

Tests show that industrial workers in some instances can do 10 to 35 per cent. more work when bad lighting is changed to good.

Got His Goat!

A farmer from a small Dutch village walked into the Bank of Netherlands, Amsterdam, the other day, carrying the stomach of a recently-killed goat.

The animal had an expensive appetite, for in the stomach were 220 guilders, or about $150.00 in bank notes.

The farmer had laid his vest containing the money on the grass, never giving a thought to the goat, which was grazing nearby. The farmer had a butcher kill the goat and cut out its stomach. An official of the bank succeeded in deciphering the numbers of the notes, and the farmer received new money.
